Stewardship Message—

“Fully Alive as Missionary Disciples”

20th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Jer 38: 4-6, 8-10; Heb 12:4-1; Lk 12:49-53

In his letter to the Hebrews, Paul compares discipleship to a great race, one that requires determination and perseverance. Jesus sets the perfect example, and we must follow Him — in fact, we should chase after Him! He says to “rid ourselves of every burden and sin that clings to us,” for those are the things that slow our pursuit. We have been blessed with the strength to endure the race. We have also been given a role model who kept his eyes on the finish line, even though it included the cross. He endured opposition and shame and now wears a crown of glory. May we all spend every moment of our lives striving to compete with the same wild intensity.

CATHOLIC DOCTRINAL SECTION

Faith and life are inseparable, for Faith apart from works is dead (CCC 1815). The moral law is the work of divine wisdom and leads man to the promised blessedness (CCC 1950). Consequently, the "knowledge of the divine and natural law is necessary" to do good and reach this goal (CCC 1955). Accepting this truth is essential for all people of good will. For he who dies in mortal sin without repentance will be forever separated from God (CCC 1033). This leads to practical consequences in the lives of Christians, which are often ignored today (cf 2270-2283; 2350-2381). The moral law is not a burden, but part of that liberating truth (cf Jn 8:32) through which the Christian walks on the path of salvation and which may not be relativized
