3RD SUNDAY OF EASTER

Jesus said to them, "Come, have breakfast." And none of the disciples dared to ask him, "Who are you?" because they realized it was the Lord. Jesus came over and took the bread and gave it to them, and in like manner the fish. - Jn 21:12-13

Stewardship Message— Follow Me

Third Sunday of Easter
Acts 5:27-32, 40b-41 / Ps 30:2, 4, 5-6, 11-12, 13 /
Rev 5:11-14 / Jn 21:1-19

Have you ever been part of a ministry that had run out of steam? No one shows up, no one gives the ministry any support, and you begin to wonder if anyone even knows it exists? You'd like to throw in the towel, but you don't want to give up because you have a glimmer of hope. It might feel like you are sitting out in a boat with St. Peter trying to catch fish all night, and when morning comes, nothing but net. Yes, you can do all things through Christ, but not all things will Christ do through you. Peter and the disciples were called by Jesus to be fishers of men. Then the next thing they know, they are asked to tend sheep. Wow, what a change! From fishing to shepherding, from water to land, from nets to crooks, sounds like a radical shift in lifestyle! Are you being called to make a change? Perhaps, like in today's Psalm, you will shout "I will praise you, Lord, for you have rescued me" from this ministry!

DOCTRINAL SECTION

Charity in truth, to which Jesus Christ bore witness by his earthly life and especially by his death and resurrection, is the principal driving force behind the authentic development of every person and of all humanity. Love — caritas — is an extraordinary force which leads people to opt for courageous and generous engagement in the field of justice and peace. It is a force that has its origin in God, Eternal Love and Absolute Truth. Each person finds his good by adherence to God's plan for him, in order to realize it fully: in this plan, he finds his truth, and through adherence to this truth he becomes free. To defend the truth, to articulate it with humility and conviction, and to bear witness to it in life are therefore exacting and indispensable forms of charity. Charity, in fact, "rejoices in the truth". All people feel the interior impulse to love authentically: love and truth never abandon them completely, because these are the vocation planted by God in the heart and mind of every human person. The search for love and truth is purified and liberated by Jesus Christ from the impoverishment that our humanity brings to it, and he reveals to us in all its fullness the initiative of love and the plan for true life that God has prepared for us. In Christ, charity in truth becomes the Face of his Person, a vocation for us to love our brothers and sisters in the truth of his plan. Indeed, he himself is the Truth. Charity is love received and given. It is "grace". Its source is the wellspring of the Father's love for the Son, in the Holy Spirit.

~Pope Benedict XVI

St. Vincent de Paul

It is a remarkable fact that in all the appearances of Our Lord after His resurrection, His disciples and friends had a certain difficulty in recognizing Him. Yet that difficulty did not conflict with the assurance which eventually dawned upon all of them, that Jesus Christ had indeed risen from the dead. That should be a source of encouragement to us. We also do not see Him with our physical eyes, and with the first disciples we share the difficulty of seeing Him clearly in the ordinary events of our lives. St. Pius X once wrote: "In all circumstances of your life say: 'It is the Lord.'" This is very Vincentian, as St. Vincent was deeply devoted to the Providence of God, and he recommended that we accept all things by saying: "when something unexpected happens to us in body or mind, good or bad, we are to accept it without fuss as from God's hand." If we could live that ideal of St. Vincent, we would have great peace in our lives. "In all circumstances, say: 'It is the Lord."
