Stewardship Message--Sept. 27, 2015

"Once One Chooses to be a Disciple of Christ, Stewardship is not an Option"

Twenty-sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Would that all the people of the Lord were prophets! Today's readings remind us that God's call to service reaches beyond our human understanding. Moses told Joshua that it was the message of God that was important, not the messenger. Jesus had to explain the same thing to his disciples – do not restrict those who are proclaiming the Gospel and spreading the Love of God. In support of heeding the Word of God, St. James warns the people that earthly pleasures and treasures will fade away and that we should be working for life in heaven. May our understanding of Jesus' Gospel lead us to live as good stewards of God's gifts.
